

DUFFY ACQUITTED OF BANK ROBBERY ACCUSATION

COLD BLASTS SWEEP DOWN FROM NORTH

High Wind Cause of Some Damage Here; Mercury Drops

The high wind which accompanied a rapid fall in temperature late yesterday afternoon was accountable for a great deal of damage in and about Dixon during the night. The fire department responded to four alarms between 7 and 9 o'clock last evening when the wind was strongest. Five calls were received in the two hours, one of which was a false alarm, and in four cases chimneys were burning out and citizens feared damage from sparks.

A huge electric sign on Newman Brothers' Riverview garage was torn from its moorings and swept down on the roof with another sign and a large plate glass in the front of the C. E. Mossholder display room on East First street was blown in by the heavy wind. Several roofs and radio aerials in the downtown district were damaged and tree limbs were scattered through the streets in all sections of the city.

Falling limbs on the north side of the river rendered that part of the city in complete darkness last night and the business section of the city was only partially lighted. Several of the smaller cities supplied by the Illinois Northern Utilities Company were in darkness when primary lines were severed by falling trees and branches. East of Sterling several poles were almost blown over and had to be replaced.

The Dixon Home Telephone Company's lines had suffered no damage this morning, the only delay in service being to long distance telephone lines.

NO WARNING OF COLD
Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Whistling cold had come along without warning to the north and midwest. The roaring winds whipped Minnesota and Dakota temperatures below zero last night and then spread south. From 30 degrees above zero at 7 p. m., in Chicago, the temperature reading fell 20 degrees in two hours.

It was the wind, however, rather than the precipitate mercury drop that did the most damage. Trees and sparrows were blown down here and windows broken. Several buildings were unroofed. Lighting and transportation services were disrupted in some sections of the city. Car service in fifteen suburbs was tied up for several hours.

A St. Paul-Chicago mail plane, was forced down at Madison, Wis. The Alabama, one of the staunchest ships on the Great Lakes, was forced back into harbor by mountainous waves and a 70 mile gale today after starting for Grand Haven, Mich. The captain said it would have been foolhardy to have tried to weather the storm.

COLD CAUSED WRECK
Battle Creek, Mich., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Two persons were slightly injured and forty-one other passengers escaped injury when the Atlantic Flier eastbound Grand Trunk passenger train was derailed this morning two miles west of the Battle Creek station and three coaches turned over on their sides.

A broken rail, believed to have been caused by contraction due to the severe cold, was blamed for the wreck. All seven cars in the train, including a mail car, baggage car, a diner and four sleepers, were derailed.

WIND IN DEKALB CO.
DeKalb, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—A high wind swept this community last night causing considerable damage. Several plate glass windows were blown in and one roof torn off. Sycamore also suffered, a wall of the Illinois Thresher Building being blown down.

No Trace of Missing Girl Despite Reward

Northampton, Mass., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Despite the fact that St. John Smith, father of the missing Miss Frances St. John Smith, had increased to $10,000 his offer of reward for information leading to her discovery no new clew of importance was available to investigators today. State, city and private detectives were admittedly baffled by their failure to find a single authentic lead on which to work.

In the week that has passed since the 19-year-old Smith College freshman walked out of her room in Dewey Hall, she has been reported from a hundred points and detectives have scrutinized nearly a score of photostatic copies of hotel registers without avail.

GANG WARFARE IN ST. LOUIS FLAMES AGAIN

Fifteenth Victim is Added to Toll in Night Battle

BULLETIN
St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 20.—(AP)—A fresh outburst in gang war here last night, after a lull of three weeks, left two dead and a third wounded today. The shooting came as an apparent reprisal for the assassination of Vito Giannola, gangster, bootlegger and extortionist, December 28, and brought the list of gang murders to 15.

An unidentified man, believed to have been a gunman imported from some other city, was not thirteen times and died in his tracks. Dominic Cataldo, 29, was mortally wounded and died at a hospital today. Charles Freese, 35, was shot through both thighs and is in a serious condition.

St. Louis, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The fifteenth victim of bootleg-extortion gang warfare in St. Louis was claimed by machine guns an automatic pistols last night. An unidentified gangster was killed and another probably fatally wounded.

The latest flareup of the sporadic shootings which have been carried on for the past six months left the police without tangible clues. Meanwhile Dominic Cataldo, 30, lay in a hospital with seven bullet wounds in his abdomen. Physicians said the wounds would probably be fatal. Charles Freese, a salesman was wounded not so seriously and will recover.

The shooting took place as the three men were leaving the home of Charles Spiezua, manager of a fruit company, who said they came to his home to discuss business matters relating to "apples and other fruits." Police said they found empty shells of machine gun bullets in the house and that bullet holes in the porch showed the guns were fired at short range.

The men who did the firing were said by Spiezua to have been in an automobile from whence they poured a volley of shots at Cataldo, Freese and the unidentified man emerged from Spiezua's home. Police said Cataldo had been indicted for the slaying of Alphonse Palazzolo in September.

Dismissed Engineer Commended by Jury

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—John A. Van Ness, of Bloomington, Ill., engineer discharged by the Chicago & Alton railroad, because of a three-train collision here Dec. 31, was today commended by a coroner's jury for prompt action in bringing his train to a halt. Two persons were killed.

Van Ness was at the throttle of the "Hummer," Kansas City-Chicago passenger train, which ran into a St. Louis mail train blocked by a train ahead taking water.

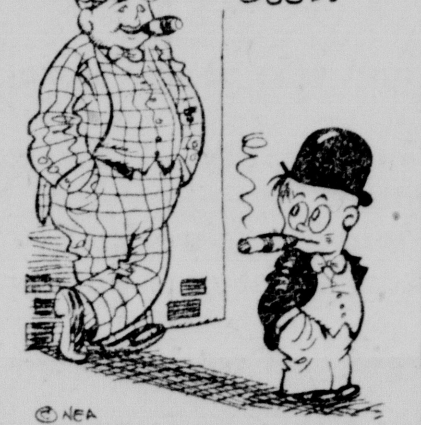

C. F. Salmon, of Chicago, flagman on the mail train, also was removed, the road contending he had not protected his train. Van Ness was running too fast, the road and the Illinois Commerce Commission found.

The coroner's jury said Van Ness' quick work probably saved the lives of many persons in the rear coaches of the mail train.

Two Tulsa, Okla., women were the victims.

SENATE DENIES ILLINOIS RIGHT OF 2 SENATORS

Smith Finds Doors of Upper House Closed Tightly

BULLETIN
Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Gov. Len Small in a formal statement today said he would refuse to recognize the action of the United States Senate which yesterday barred Frank L. Smith, Senator-elect of Illinois, from its floor.

"On behalf of Illinois," said Governor Small's statement, "I can't and will not recognize the action of the United States Senate in declaring that a vacancy exists."

To do so, said his statement, "would be to bargain away the constitutional rights of the people of a sovereign state," and would recognize the power of "an unauthorized body" to disfranchise an entire state.

The attempt to keep Smith from a seat in the Senate, he declared, was fraught with the most serious threat to constitutional government witnessed in the United States since the Civil War and recognition of such powers of the Senate would sweep away the last vestige of self-government in the country.

BULLETIN
Philadelphia, Jan. 20.—(AP)—There were indications today that William S. Vare might resign as the duly elected Senator from Pennsylvania and seek vindication for his temporary rejection by the Senate by nomination and election a second time at the coming presidential elections.

Vare returned to his home here last night from a vacation in Florida and immediately went into conference with his counsel on the present situation. He refused to deny or confirm the insistent report of leaders in local Republican councils that he would resign.

Whether the rejection by the Senate yesterday of Frank L. Smith, of Illinois, prompted the new move of Vare is not known.

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The senate's doors were definitely closed today to Frank L. Smith, republican Senator elected from Illinois. They were bawled barred late yesterday by a 61 to 23 vote that declared his seat vacant after the Senate for the second time voted 56 to 27 against giving him the oath of office.

The exclusion vote, which came after three days of debate, was an adoption of a special committee's resolution declaring his credentials tainted with "fraud and corruption" because of his acceptance of primary campaign funds from Illinois Public Utility officials. The resolution's specific charges against Smith was that he was not eligible to membership in the Senate because his campaign funds included more than $200,000 given by Samuel Insull of Chicago, and other public utilities officials, some of whom were not residents of that state.

George W. Kreitzer Died this Morning

George W. Kreitzer, veteran employee at the Dixon plow shops for many years whose serious illness has been the concern of many friends for several weeks, died at his home at 11 o'clock this morning, after a long sickness. Funeral services will be held at the Preston funeral chapel at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with burial in Oakwood.

Mr. Kreitzer, who had countless friends throughout the city, where he had resided for many years, is survived by his widow, three daughters and two sons—William J. Bunch of Peoria, Miss Floss E. Kreitzer of Chicago, Richard and Leonard Kreitzer of East Chicago, Ind., and Mrs. George W. Smith of Dixon; three sisters—Mrs. Dan Drenner of Cumberland, Iowa, Mrs. Joel Senger of Franklin Grove and Mrs. Lee Boyer of Lena, Ill., and one brother—Frank Kreitzer of Rochelle.

Elopement by Plane Leads Pair to Jail

Mexico City, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The first airplane elopement of Mexico led not to the altar but to jail. Angela Medina, whose parents did not approve of her engagement to Jose Pastrana, decided to leave Tampico with him and fly to Mexico City. The couple hoped to arrive here and be married before their absence was noted.

Their plans went amiss, however. Angela's parents arrived on the Tampico airfield just as the plane was disappearing in the distance. They rushed back to police court and had an order for their daughter's arrest telegraphed to Mexico City police.

When the couple landed at Valbuena airfield, Mexico City, their reception was a detachment of police. They were marched off to jail. They will be returned to Tampico by train where Angela will be returned to her parents.

ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR YOUNG HILL DEMANDED BY STATE'S ATTORNEY IN OPENING PLEA

Streator Youth Sat Unmoved as State Outlined Case

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—The electric chair for Harry Hill, 22, for the slaying of his mother in their Streator home last August was demanded today by H. O. Hanson, State's Attorney, in his opening statement to the jury.

Hanson told the jury of Dr. H. O. Hill, father of the young man, going to Nevada to divorce Mrs. Hill three years before the slaying, but declared that "Dr. Hill is a man against whom the finger of suspicion is not directed by the state in any manner."

Hanson declared that a normal relationship did not exist between young Hill and his mother and asserted that the son visited her only infrequently.

Hanson described the finding of the body of Mrs. Hill last August buried in the basement of the big house she occupied in Streator after she had been slain by bullets the state alleges the boy fired.

Young Hill sat without a display of emotion as Hanson pointed him out to the jury as the slayer of his mother. His chin was pillowed in his hand.

Tried to Shift Blame
Hanson called the slaying a hideous crime and declared that the youth tried to shift the responsibility to Peter Busch's aged shoulders by paying Mrs. Hill's gardener seventy-five cents to level off Mrs. Hill's basement grave.

Young Hill took Busch to the Hill home and showed him the grave. Hanson said Busch would testify.

In addition to the seventy-five cent payment for rearranging the dirt over the spot where the slain woman's body lay, Hill also hired the gardener for $1.25 to cut grass in the yard, the first time in his life he had done such a thing, Hanson said.

CASHIER SHOOTS TWO BANDITS IN HOLD-UP ATTEMPT

Police Seeking Four of Gang Who Made Their Escape

Portland, Ore., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Police of Oregon and Washington today patrolled a wide area in their search for four bandits who fled after securing two of their companions slain in an attempt to loot the suburban Mount Scott State Bank here yesterday.

The marksmanship of A. J. De Morest, cashier, brought death to two of the bandits—one with a bullet through his neck and the other with a 30-30 rifle slug through the head.

The dead are J. R. Benton and Fred Williams, the two robbers who entered the bank. The other four bandits escaped in automobiles.

Three other persons were in the bank when the shooting took place. They were Mrs. G. Mores, assistant cashier; Mathew Harris, teller, and Harold Jones, bookkeeper.

When Benton produced a pistol and ordered the three bank employees to the rear of the room, DeMorest, who was concealed near the vault, appeared with the rifle and fired from the hip. Benton fell dead with a bullet in his neck.

Williams then shot at DeMorest, but missed. When the bandit attempted to fire again, he found his automatic pistol had jammed. While he sought to force a cartridge into the chamber, DeMorest shot him in the head.

The cashier then ran from the building and shot at one of the bandit cars. It is believed that he wounded one of the fugitives.

Fall's Son-in-Law Summoned by Senate

Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—M. T. Everhart, Pueblo, Colo., banker, and son-in-law of Albert B. Fall, has been summoned to appear Tuesday before the Senate committee which is to reopen the naval oil lease inquiry.

Everhart twice has refused to testify in civil and criminal cases growing out of the lease of Teapot Dome to Harry F. Sinclair, taking the position that to do so would make him incriminate himself.

DIED AT HOSPITAL.

Mrs. George Mertz, also of Milledgeville died at the local hospital Wednesday, following an operation for appendicitis.

DOMINO NOT HELD.
Tony Domino, of Rockford, who was held by the coroner's jury in the death of Harvey Munde on Jan. 6th, when the auto accident occurred south of Mendota was allowed to go free. The LaSalle county grand jury was of the opinion after hearing the evidence that Domino should not be indicted. Domino had to give bail for $5,000 in order to secure his freedom after the coroner's inquest. His attorney at once began to work on the case and when the grand jury convened at Ottawa they decided there was no cause for Domino being held.

BOY WANTS TO RETURN

Allen D. Taylor, 16-year-old Dixon high school student who disappeared from his home here Monday, after his father, Harold W. Taylor, had spoken to him about the use of an automobile, evidently tired of the wander last yesterday, yearned for his home and friends. Last evening a telegram was received from Memphis, Tenn., in which Allen implored his father to send him a ticket which would bring him back to Dixon.

The telegram had been telephoned to the telephone office from Cormanant, Miss., where the student had evidently concluded that the southern hospitality did not compare with home surroundings and is thought to have started to return home. The young man had made excellent time, as he was reported having been seen in Mound City in the southern part of the state last Tuesday afternoon. The chief of police at Cormanant, Miss., was communicated with by telephone last night and Allen is expected to return home within the next few days.

Hold Boy in Plot to Extort Big Sum

Del Monte, Calif., Jan. 20.—(AP)—A plot to extort $1000 from Mrs. R. G. Tunison, wife of a Chicago physician, by means of death threats, was under investigation today while Andrew Henneken, 17 year old caddy on the Del Monte Golf links, was being held by probation officers pending determination of his share in the affair.

Henneken was stopped by a shotgun squad when he took a decoy envelope from the stand in a tee box where Mrs. Tunison had been ordered to hide the money. He said a man dressed in an army hat and blouse and civilian trousers had offered him $5 to get the envelope.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. E. E. Mountaine, 56, of New York, mother of Evans Burrows Mountaine, dancer, was instantly killed near Smyrna, Florida, early today when the automobile in which she was riding crashed into a passenger train on the Florida East Coast Railroad.

Mrs. Mountaine was on her way to Miami to join her daughter who is reported to be ill in a Miami Beach hotel. The dancer, upon advice of physicians, was not immediately informed of her mother's death.

GREAT OUTBURST FOR LOWDEN LAST EVE BY FARMERS

Former Governor Also Extolled at I. A. A. Luncheon Today

BULLETIN.
Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—The death of a close friend, John W. Dwight in the east forced Frank O. Lowden to cancel his visit to Rock Island where he was to be an honored guest at a luncheon for delegates to the Illinois Agricultural Association Convention.

A message received by Earl C. Smith, president of the Association last night and made public at noon today when Gov. Lowden was to arrive read: "Just received news of the sudden death in the east of John W. Dwight, my closest and dearest friend. Of course I must leave on the earliest train to bear such comfort and sympathy as I can to his family. If I were to omit this last office to my friend I should never forgive myself. Nothing but a solemn duty like this could prevent my being with you tomorrow."

In a letter written last night and received today Gov. Lowden stated that he felt greatly honored at being invited to attend the luncheon and that he had intended to speak had it been possible for him to attend.

Mr. Dwight was a political advisor of Mr. Lowden, a former New York Congressman and lately a resident of Washington.

Rock Island, Ill., Jan. 20.—(AP)—A warning to Republican and Democratic parties alike, that any candidate opposed to farm relief legislation would receive the active opposition of the Illinois Agricultural Association, was contained in resolutions presented to the annual convention of the organization here today.

Referring to the McNary-Haugen bill before the House agricultural committee it was declared the association will "hold responsible, so far as it is within our power, any political party or any public official who contributes to the surrender of the principles of this legislation."

The equalization fee, feature of the bill over which the fight in Washington is being waged, was heartily endorsed.

Favored Planks

"To deny it to agriculture is equivalent to refusing agriculture a place in our complex protective system," asserted the proffered resolution.

A Great Lakes-to-Gulf Waterway, Mexico, development of the federal barge line, government supervision of grain exchanges, the gasoline tax law and an amendment to the amending clause of the Illinois Constitution, received the stamp of approval. An amendment of the present taxing laws to obtain "an equitable assessment and equalization of property valuations," was asked, as was enactment of a tax on net income.

Outburst for Lowden

Following the spontaneous demonstration for Frank O. Lowden at the mention of his name during the banquet last night, an unprecedented ovation was anticipated for the former Governor at the luncheon today with Governor Adam McMullen of Nebraska as the keynote speaker of the convention.

Lowden's name was worked in the state song, Illinois, at the banquet and lustily sung many times. Talk of the possibility of a third party movement for the idol of the farmers, should he fall of nomination for President in the Republican party was discounted by State Senator S. E. Lantz of Congressville, who said the farmers had learned by the experience of prohibition and labor forces that the way to accomplish an end was through one or the other of the established parties.

Praise From McMullen

Governor McMullen, in his address prepared for the luncheon, said the farmers would win in their fight for a national policy to promote farm stability and prosperity because they had the right man for the leader.

"A man of the middle west, but whose visions and views encompass all sections," he declared. "A man whose training and experience and life typify American character and exalts American citizenship."

"We have the man, who year in and year out, has contended for the right of the farm—as he would contend for the right of any neglected industry—without thought of political preferment and without desire for public reward."

"Illinois gave Lincoln to the nation when human freedom was at stake. Illinois has another son to offer when economic equality is in the balance. We have the man—Frank O. Lowden."

MURDERERS OF OLD WOMAN GET LIFE IN PRISON

Sentence Passed by Dubuque Judge After Confession

Dubuque, Ia., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Two youths who visioned life of bright lights and fame as opera singers after gaining possession of the hoard of an aged woman recluse at Swingle, Iowa, by slaying her, today saw their dreams fade before the walls of Fort Madison state prison, where they must spend the remainder of their lives at hard labor.

Presenting a wide contrast from the brown-pencilled, marcelled and rouged "dandies" arrested in St. Louis some two months ago, six days after the robbery and murder of Mrs. Elizabeth McKittrick, 73, Leonard Cota, 18, of Altoona, Wis., and Howard Kramer, 19, of Malta, Mont., shuffled into District Court here yesterday and heard life sentences passed after they had entered pleas of guilty to first degree murder charges.

Not even a trace of their marcel waves was left or the cosmetic splendor which aroused suspicion of St. Louis police and resulted in their arrest and subsequent recovery of the $43,000 loot taken from the recluse's home after they had struck her down and left her to die on the kitchen floor.

FOE OF UNITED STATES CHOSEN COMMITTEE HEAD

Salvadoran Elected Chairman Important Pan-American Body

Havana, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Interest of delegates to the Pan-American Conference today centered on the election of a delegate reputedly hostile to present policies of the United States in Latin America to the chairmanship of the conference's most important committee.

Gustavo Guerrero, Salvadoran delegate, was chosen head of the committee on Public International Law. This has jurisdiction over the most controversial resolutions before the conference. These are the draft treaties for modification of American public international law prepared at the Jurists' Conference at Rio Janeiro last April. One measure recommended was prohibition by treaty of intervention by force of any American Republic in the internal affairs of another.

During the Rio conference proposals were discussed to extend this proposal to interference in both internal and external affairs of another country. The view was freely expressed that the bringing of the latter proposals into the debates of Guerrero's committee was extremely likely.

Guerrero is credited with organizing an agreement between Salvador, Guatemala and Honduras, reputed to have as its object resistance to foreign interference. Nevertheless he was elected unanimously after his nomination had been seconded by Charles Evans Hughes, head of the American delegation.

The committee of conventions and resolutions, on which Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow and Ambassador Nobel Brandon Judah are the American members, was called into session to organize today. This meeting was the only formal activity for the day.

Sheely Released by Chicago Sox Today

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Earl Sheely, first baseman for the Chicago White Sox, was released outright today to Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League.

Sheely, a terrific right hand hitter, was one of three infielders brought over from the Pacific Coast League after the famous White Sox team was wrecked by the revelations of misconduct in the 1919 World's Series.

He remains an excellent batter and fielder but has slowed down on the bases because of an old ankle injury. The showing of Bud Clancy last year so impressed Manager Ray Schalk that he decided that the youngster would do for regular service. Clancy formerly played with Little Rock in the Southern Association. The Sox have another promising recruit in Harold Strickland.

FACES OTHER CHARGES IN IOWA COURTS

Bootlegging and Auto Theft Charges Will be Preferred

BULLETIN
Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Jan. 20.—(AP)—John W. Duffy of Chicago and Dixon, Ill., acquitted last night on a charge of robbing the Alburnett State Bank will be arrested on a perjury charge. County Attorney Walter J. Bargrover announced today immediately after Judge F. L. Anderson declared from the bench that the acquittal was the most flagrant miscarriage of justice he had known in Linn County for thirty years.

Bargrover refused to state what specific indictment he would name as having been perjured testimony, but court room observers believed that charges will be based on Duffy's testimony regarding where he was on the day of the robbery.

Yesterday two witnesses testified that he was in the home of Roscoe Shomer when the bank was robbed. Significant Order.

Some significance was attached to an order by Judge Anderson placing the jury selected yesterday to try Dr. Jesse Cook for second degree murder in charge of a bailiff. The Judge issued an order forbidding newspapers to publish the reasons why he placed the jury in the bailiff's custody.

The case was adjourned until 1:30 p. m. to give Mr. Bargrover time to prepare his case.

Duffy, although acquitted, remained in jail today to face possible arraignment for bootlegging and driving a stolen automobile.

(Telegraph Special Service)
Cedar Rapids, Ia., Jan. 20.—John W. Duffy of Chicago and Dixon, Ill., broke down and wept late Thursday afternoon when a jury in Criminal Court here returned a verdict of not guilty to a charge of Duffy being one of two men who held up and robbed the Alburnett State Bank of $6,687 shortly after noon on Nov. 30, last.

Court had adjourned for the day when the jury, on which there was one woman, notified the bailiff in charge that they had reached a verdict after four hours deliberation, in which six ballots were taken.

Court Room Deserted.
Duffy, dressed in a dark blue suit, and accompanied by a Deputy Sheriff marched into the vacated courtroom shortly after Criminal Judge F. L. Anderson took his place on the bench, and the jury was ushered in. The courtroom was in silence, broken only by Judge Anderson's question: "Have you reached a verdict?"

The twelve answered, one by one: "We have your Honor."

The foreman then stood erect and reading, said: "We find the defendant not guilty." Then, after another moment of absolute silence, Duffy arose from his chair, walked toward the jury box, and in broken words said: "Thank God you have freed an innocent man. I knew you would find me not guilty."

Thanked the Jurors.
Judge Anderson dismissed the jury and then George Claassen of Cedar Rapids, young fighting attorney who aided in the defense, said: "We, the defense, sincerely thank you for the verdict given an innocent man."

Duffy and his attending deputy then retired to the corridors outside the courtroom, where she shook hands with the jurors, saying: "I knew you would find me not guilty, and I feel certain the state will find the other guilty person."

He was returned to the county jail where he received congratulations from sixty prisoners.

Faces Other Charges

Seek to Unionize All "Gold Coast" Servants

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Unionization of the "Gold Coast" front door and back, is being attempted with what thus far have been only desultory results. A crew of union organizers canvassed the "Gold Coast" yesterday in an effort to interest servants in joining the house maids' and butlers' union. Ten dollars down and a dollar a week were the requirements. The benefits being a straight eight hour day for butlers and other servants excepting nursemaids, who would work ten hours.

Senators Swanson of Virginia and Walsh of Massachusetts, Democrats, will conduct the contest to amend the resolution so that the commission would deal only with the question of safety devices and means of preventing such disasters in the future with a Senate naval subcommittee inquiring into the disaster itself.

In calling up the resolution, which already has been approved by the House, Senator Hale suggested an amendment by which the commission would be composed of four civilian experts, including a judge, and one retired naval officer instead of three naval experts and two retired naval officers.

Launching the attack on the resolution, Senator Swanson declared Secretary Wilbur had already selected the membership of this "so-called presidential commission."

PRESIDENT IRISH FREE STATE NOW GUEST OF YANKS

Cosgrave Arrived in New York Today on "Good Will Tour"

New York, Jan. 20.—(AP)—President William T. Cosgrave of the Irish Free State arrived in America today on an expressed visit of good will.

Three thousand police had been marshalled along the line of march from the Battery to City Hall prepared to handle an unfriendly demonstration which did not occur.

Shortly before President Cosgrave landed from the city tug Macon, however, three men and a woman marched into Battery Park bearing giant placards.

The placards read: "Who is crushing Ireland with debt and taxes—Cosgrave." "Who murdered 77 Irish patriots—Cosgrave." "Who hates republics—Cosgrave." and "Who is the real head of Cosgrave's Irish Free State—King George the Fifth."

Ejected From Park Police descended on the four and demanded their passes. The placard bearers said they had no passes but were members of the Devalera party and wished to voice their protest.

"This is the first time," Mr. Cosgrave said, "that the head of my country has gone to see your country. This is a visit of good will and admiration for your great country and to thank you for all that you have done and for your sympathy for the opportunities you have afforded our people coming to your free country."

The only other sign of opposition to the visitor during the moments preceding his landing was the distribution of pamphlets at subway entrances by a group of women who said they were supporters of the Irish Republic. The pamphlets were denunciatory of Cosgrave but the women were not molested.

Doesn't Know "Bill" Mr. Cosgrave didn't know much about Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson of Chicago. "Are you going to meet him in Chicago?" he was asked. "I suppose so," he answered, after conferring with one of his party.

The progress to City Hall was made through packed lanes of pedestrians, the sidewalk crowds being enormously swelling by the noon time crowds.

"Ticker tape floated from his windows in the city's traditional welcome but the watching crowds were on the whole quiet.

At one point several women shouted derogatory remarks, but subsided when policemen closed about them and threatened arrest.

At City Hall there was the largest crowd, thousands of persons being kept from over-running the plaza by several hundred police and two companies of infantry.

Adds Fuel to Flame Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The action of W. A. Gunter, Jr., of Montgomery, Ala., in inviting Senator Robinson of Arkansas to come to the Alabama capital as a guest of the city, promises to be the next vocal fighting point in the now famous Heflin-Robinson controversy.

Notwithstanding Senator Heflin's assertion that Robinson might be tarred and feathered if he made a speech in Alabama similar to the one he made in the Senate, rebuking Heflin for his attacks on the Catholic church and Gov. Smith, Gunter has urged Robinson to come south, and the Alabama senator today said he would reply to Gunter on the Senate floor.

Divers Seek Bodies of Seven in Caisson

Panama City, Fla., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Divers were working today to recover the bodies of seven men drowned and pinned to the bottom of East Bay yesterday when a caisson on which they were at work sank and carried with it.

The huge steel shell, which the workmen were putting in place for pouring cement to mould concrete piers, was dislodged and held the men imprisoned within it while it toppled to the water and sank to a depth of 55 feet in mid-bay.

The victims were H. O. Bates, St. Andrews, Fla.; B. C. Turner, Panama City; Archie Welch, Engadine, Mich.; Andrew Hoyval, Atkin, Minn.; C. O. Oxdafer, Royalton, Minn.; Ed. Suiner, Royalton, Minn.; A. A. Holden, home address unknown.

The men were members of a steel diving crew at work on the New Alfred Dupont bridge across the bay.

Two other men, at work on the outside of the caisson when it fell, were rescued by fellow workmen when they were thrown into the water by the toppling shell.

Hero of Disaster to Airship is Rewarded Washington, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Further recognition of the bravery and heroism of Harry A. Chapman, Massachusetts, who saved the lives of four comrades and his own at the time of the airship Roma disaster in 1922, was given today with his designation as recipient of the first Cheney award.

The award, announced by Major General Mason M. Patrick, Chief of the Army Air Corps, is to be given on this date annually, the anniversary of the death of Lieut. William H. Cheney, air corps, killed at Foggia, Italy, in 1920. The award, donated by Cheney's mother and sister, is in recognition of acts of valor or of extreme fortitude or self-sacrifice in an humanitarian interest performed in connection with aircraft. It is a bronze plaque bearing the name of the recipient, a certificate of award and the annual interest from a $10,000 trust fund.

Chapman, a native of St. Joseph, Mo., one of the crew of the Roma when it crashed, found himself entrapped with four mates in a canvas enclosed compartment with escape cut off by flames. With his knife he made an opening in the canvas through which he helped his companions to safety being burned severely while so doing. Then he escaped himself. The burns he received threatened his life for a time and he spent eleven months in Walter Reed Hospital here, but he is now back in the service at Langley Field, Virginia.

Chemicals Eaten in Stunt Cause Illness Toledo, O., Jan. 20.—(AP)—Chemical preparations which they ate as part of their initiation into a high school chemistry club here has resulted today in the serious illness of a high school instructor and two girl students.

Two other girls are believed recovering. It is not known whether others of the initiatory class of fifteen were affected.

Lulu Howard, chemistry instructor, said she had tested the chemicals carefully before they were mixed for the initiation, "stunt" last night. The preparations consisted of baking soda, castor oil, sugars, tea, dried sand and pumice stone.

OLD MASTERS

DAWN—and a magical stillness: on earth, quiescence profound; On the waters a vast content, as of hunger appeased and stayed; In the heavens a silence that seems not merely privation of sound, But a thing with form and body, a thing to be touched and weighed!

Yet I know that I dwell in the midst of the roar of the cosmic wheel In the hot collision of Forces, and clangor of boundless strife, Mid the sound of the speed of the worlds, the rushing worlds and the peal Of the thunder of Life

—William Watson: Dawn on the Headland.

Esther Powell and Harry Travis Wed

A wedding of much interest to Polo and Dixon friends took place last Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Della Powell, North Division street, Polo, when her daughter, Esther Blanche, was united in marriage to Harley Travis, only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Travis, of the community near Polo.

Miss Dorothy O'Kane, a cousin of the bridegroom, played Lohengrin's wedding march and the young couple unattended marched down the stairs and took their places before a bower of green and white in the living room, where Rev. S. G. Eberly, of the Evangelical church, performed the impressive ring ceremony. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Vera Eberly, cousin of the bride, sang, "I Love You Truly," and "At Dawning."

The bride wore a beautiful gown of beige crepe and carried a bouquet of white roses. The rooms were attractively decorated in yellow and white, with green foliage, the same color scheme prevailing in the table appointments.

Only immediate relatives witnessed the ceremony, after which a wedding dinner was served, and amid a shower of rice, Mr. Travis and his bride left for a short honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will make their home on a farm south-east of Polo where the groom is employed. For the past three years the bride has been employed in Chase's studio. The best wishes and congratulations of their many friends go with this popular young couple to their new home.

Inter-Se Club Was Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kennedy entertained the members of the Inter-Se club Wednesday evening at their home on Lincoln Way, honoring Mrs. James Jarvis, who left Dixon last evening with her mother, Mrs. Azalia Pomeroy, to spend the remainder of the winter in Los Angeles, California. A delightful evening was spent in bridge, Mrs. David Boos winning the favor for high score at bridge, and Mrs. Louis Leydig winning the consolation favor. For the gentlemen James Jarvis captured the favor for high score and Ray Shaver received the consolation favor. The hostess served delectable refreshments completing a happy evening for all, and on departing for their homes all expressed the hope that Mrs. Jarvis and her mother would enjoy the warm sunny weather of California for the rest of the winter.

"BLUEBIRDS HERE: JACK-IN-THE-PULPIT OUT IN BLOOM"
Springtime certainly must be in Polo! Sherman G. Donaldson saw a real live bluebird, not a blue-jay, Saturday morning; in W. Cupp has a Jack-in-the-pulpit in bloom out at his place east of town. The young Jack is growing in a porch box with some geraniums but Mr. Cupp cannot expect him to get there. Anyway, the warm weather outside whispered to Jack that it's time to bloom so Jack went ahead and brought out a fine blossom. Another real sign of spring is the arrival of the first seed catalogs, than which there is no better sign of spring. All of which was read yesterday in the last issue of the Tri-County Press. The signs of spring are all, however, this morning, and for us, but we venture to say that "Jack-in-the-pulpit" is not preaching today, out in the green fields, just over the way! Jack, and his very forward blossom of springtime are probably frozen stiff this morning, but anyway, all are grateful for the fine weather of the past few weeks and Spring is just a few weeks in the future.

Stitch and Chatter Club Held Election

The members of the Stitch and Chatter club held a meeting yesterday with Mrs. Robert Sanford at her home on Lincoln Way. The meeting was well attended and Mrs. Anna Davis was the new member added to the roll.

Mr. and Mrs. Hines will probably make their home in Indianapolis as the bridegroom expects to obtain employment there. He came to Dixon from Minnesota, and is an industrious and genial young man. His bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Cooper of Central

Cly Alty Club Was Entertained

The members of the Cly Alty club were pleasantly entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. William Slothower at her home. There were several guests present who enjoyed the afternoon of bridge. The guests were Mrs. David Boos, Mrs. Stuart Netz, Mrs. Webster Poole, Mrs. Louis Franks and Mrs. Clark Rickard. Pomeroy, to spend the remainder of the winter in Los Angeles, California. A delightful evening was spent in bridge, Mrs. David Boos winning the favor for high score at bridge, and Mrs. Louis Leydig winning the consolation favor. For the gentlemen James Jarvis captured the favor for high score and Ray Shaver received the consolation favor. ### Convicts, Put on Honor, Fight Fire

Booneville, Mo., Jan. 20—(AP)—Given their freedom on their word of honor, 200 inmates of the Missouri State Reformatory early today rescued six fellow inmates from the reformatory hospital which was destroyed by fire, and then according to officers of the institution returned to their quarters.

Six other patients were able to escape unaided from the burning building, but Lee Van St. James, a 16-year old negro patient suffering from pneumonia was burned to death in the building.

Officers of the institution directed the boys in their efforts to bring the fire under control and when the hospital, a two story building containing six wards was destroyed, the boys marched back to their barracks, where it was said a checkup showed that none of the "honor boys" were missing.

The fire which was of unknown origin was discovered by the reformatory dentist at 1:30. With the aid of the Booneville fire department the flames were prevented from reaching the dairy barns although a high wind was blowing. The loss was said by reformatory officers to be approximately $40,000.

She was rushed to a hospital where physicians repaired a dislocated jaw. Mary then explained that a terrific yawn had been the cause of the trouble.

WHY GOVERNOR SMALL SHOULD BE RE-ELECTED.

Governor Len Small has performed great and valuable service for the State of Illinois during the period he has occupied the executive chair, but his vast program still is incomplete and it is to be hoped that he will remain at the head of the state government for another term and carry through to a splendid finish his plans for progress and betterment in Illinois.

Not only his road building program, but all the branches of Governor Small's administration have proven him an executive of rare ability and high integrity and the manner in which he has fulfilled his pledges to the voters and the public point to him as the logical man to be Governor of Illinois for the next four years. Certainly his popularity has increased and he is stronger now than when he was a candidate in 1924. In this territory many political leaders and men and women of prominence who were once opposed to Governor Small now declare that his courageous fight and able administration entitles him to another term, and of course all of his former supporters are with him, stronger than ever.

This section of the state has the same reasons for wishing to see Governor Small remain in office that other parts of Illinois have—the desire to enjoy the benefits that will come from the completion of the great and comprehensive program of hard road building that has already brought us so much to be thankful to Governor Small for. The many paved highways already built under his direction have forcibly impressed us with the necessity of a completed road system and from past performance we know that Governor Small will finish this big job if we give him the opportunity.

DIVISION OF THE PRICE OF THE LOAF.

The federal trade commission has been investigating the manner of distribution of the price of a loaf of bread along with other elements in the trade and has filed a report with the United States senate. Attempted consolidation of large baking concerns a year or two ago brought conditions in the trade to the attention of the commission.

Commissioners found that an average of about 8½ cents was paid for a pound of bread over a period of three years; that the money was divided as follows:

Farmer, 1.15 cents; miller, 0.41 cents; baker, 5.11 cents; grocer, 1.28 cents; railroads and other handlers, 0.60 cents; total, 8.55 cents.

The report says that fifty-seven companies operating 278 bakery plants manufactured 30 percent of the estimated total commercial bread production of the United States in 1925. The Ward, General, and Continental corporations conduct close to 150 baking establishments with an estimated total of about 20 percent of the total commercial bread production.

These findings, says the report, considered with the fact that another of the country's largest baking consolidations controls more than thirty bakeries, that three of these consolidations are said to have had close corporate connections, that organizations of a super-combination or holding company for three was attempted, indicate recent developments of the general trend toward consolidation in the baking business.

The commission found that where there was a restraining influence on competition there were associations prominent in price-fixing activities.

THANK YOU, PROFESSOR.

A professor at a western university has made an amazing discovery. The other day he announced that the Federal Reserve bank discount rate is what really governs the price of corn.

It seems that every time the reserve bank rate is lowered the corn price rises. And when the rate is higher, corn is cheaper.

The theory ought to work out—until corn and the rate both go up at once. So much for that.

A golden saw has been unearthed at Ur. But the people who build your house nowadays have discarded that base metal. They use platinum—and if you don't believe it, just figure on getting a house built.

A man admitted to citizenship in New York bears the name Constantine. Pappadimitrakopoulos, and announces he will keep it. "Maybe he wants to keep out of the headlines."

Governor Donahey of Ohio gives a description of the ideal presidential candidate. Well, he has told the voters that he knows what a president ought to be like, anyway.

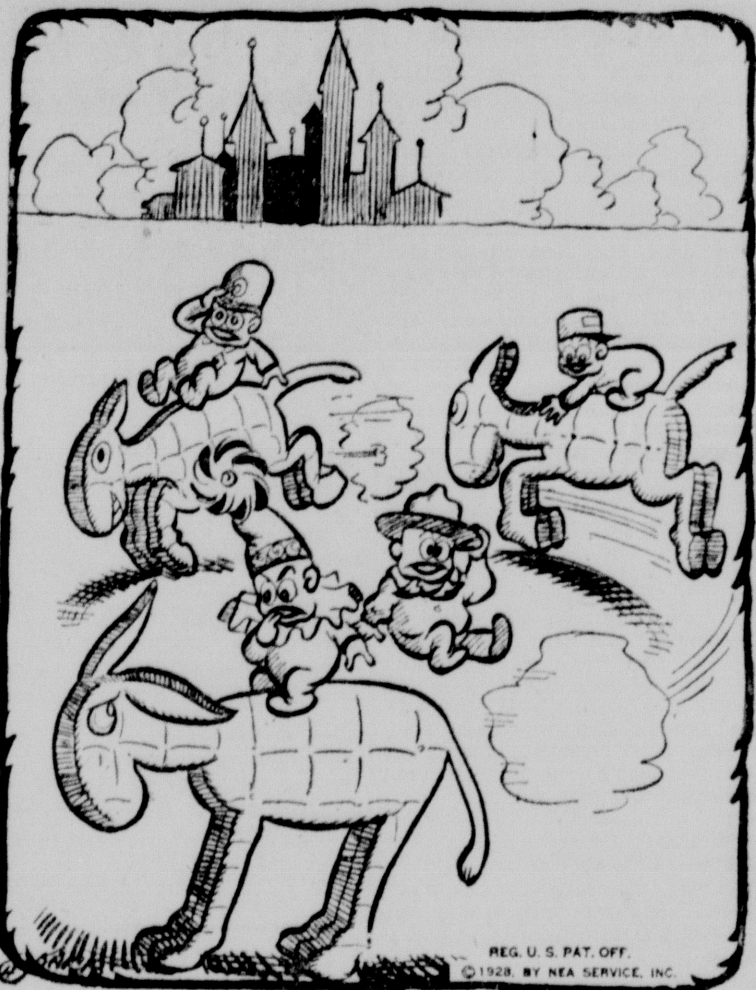

Both parties seem to have over-looked a bet in picking their convention city. We wish to point out that there's a town in Iowa named Correction.

Al Smith urges local self-government, but it's what the boys do when they're away for conventions that worries most of the little women.

The government wants more college men to take up aviation. Or aviation to take up more college men, it doesn't make any difference.

THE ANYMITES

STORY BY WAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KNICK

Said Scouty, "Tell us, who are you, and what do you intend to do? We're very glad to meet you, and you're welcome as can be. If you can help us have some fun out in the open, 'neath the sun, you'll make us happy Anymites and fill us all with glee."

The slim man answered, "Well, my boy, I think that I can spread some joy. I travel with a circus and I make wild beasts grow meek. I crack my whip and make seals dance or shout until the horses prance. Why, I'm the man who taught the big beaked parrot how to speak."

"To show you this is not all talk, I'll make your animal crackers walk. He walked up to the animals, which were lying on the ground. "Hey, come to life," he shouted loud. And very soon there rose a cloud of dust as all the horses jumped and gaily pranced around."

"Oh, can't we ride them?" Clowny said. "Sure," cried the man. "Go right ahead. Be very, very careful though, that you don't take a flop." Wee Coppy, who had lots of pluck, was first to run and try his luck. He couldn't catch a horse, though, till the slim man made one stop.

Right soon they all were riding 'round. 'Twas really heaps of fun they found. The circus man looked on a while, and then he cracked his whip. At first the horses fussed and stormed and then into a circle formed. Said Scouty, "What a spill I'd take, if my wee horse should slip."

It happened 'twas a mule he rode, and Scouty seemed a heavy load. The mule began to jump around. Then he came a sudden leap. And then the bunch heard Scouty call, "Help, help! I think I'm going to fall." And, sure enough, he bounced right off and landed in a heap.

SAINT and SINNER

BY ANNE AUSTIN

Miss Sutton, the day nurse, returning to duty the next morning at seven, bustled starchy into Faith's room, bringing in with her a faint but unmistakable odor of coffee and bacon and eggs. Hating herself for her interest in food, Faith could not keep her nostrils from twitching.

"Well, well, and how are we this fine morning?" Miss Sutton carolled cheerfully. "It's wonderful day out—cold and still and sunshiny. I see by your chart that you slept well last night. Feel like eating a nice hot breakfast?"

"Just a cup of coffee," she murmured faintly. She would not acknowledge even to herself that she was hungry.

But when the nurse, smiling broadly, deposited a tray of tempting deliciously odorous food on the bedside table, Faith weakened, reached shamefacedly for a triangle of crisp, brown toast, glistening with melted butter.

"Doctor's orders are for you to eat every bit of this lovely breakfast," Miss Sutton encouraged her. "See? A beautiful codded egg, a strip of curly, crackly bacon, a pot of real French-drip coffee and a glass of pure orange juice. Um-m! Isn't it nice to be an invalid? Now, I'll just leave you for a few minutes while you eat. Put on your light if you want anything."

Faith was childishly glad to be alone, for the warped pride of the sick would have kept her from eating if she had been watched. She was greedily scraping the egg-cup when the door opened softly.

"Alone, Faith?" George called guardedly after he had closed the door.

"Oh!" she gasped, her face lighting up with pleasure and relief. "You're the one person I most wanted to see, George. Come close. I want to tell you something. I need your help."

He took her outstretched hand and chafed it gently. "Still got amnesia, honey?" he chuckled, his little black eyes very kind and fond.

"Yes, but I've got to be cured. I suppose," she confessed, smiling reluctantly. Somehow, with George, she did not feel so utterly lonely, some as she had considered herself the day before. "I want to tell you why I ran away as I did. It was all a mistake, due to my insane jealousy and suspicion. Oh, George, I'm not fit to live!"

"Steady, honey!" he urged, kissing the tips of her fingers. "I don't suppose any of us is fit to live, if the truth were known. But we've got to make the best of ourselves."

She told him then, in quick, whispered gasps, the story of her unfounded jealousy, the overheard conversation between Cherry and Bob, her determination to commit suicide, the reasons why she had not done so, and finally, the explanation of that apparently damning conversation between Bob and her sister.

"And they think I'm good, George! I—so base, so unworthy!" she groaned. "Yesterday I hated myself so I didn't want to live, but I suppose I'll have to. But how can I get out of this 'amnesia' tangle?"

"Don't worry!" George begged. "I'll fix it, so that even the doctor will be completely taken in. No, I won't tell you how. You'll know, all right, as soon as I stage my stunt!"

The regular meeting of the Sublette Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. William Easter the afternoon of Dec. 12th. After the annual business session a most interesting and instructive program was given by Mrs. Andrew Long. Mrs. Long's topic was "Parliamentary Law," and she gave her hearers food for thought. The importance of being governed by parliamentary law is a well established fact, but in this informal age it is sometimes something of a problem to know just how to give meetings that delightfully informal atmosphere and at the same time conform with the requirements of parliamentary law and the constitution and by laws under which an organization functions. Mrs. Long in her well written paper brought out many good suggestions that will in a measure help to solve some of these vexing little problems and will encourage a high standard of efficiency.

The next meeting will be held at the Union church parlors with Mrs. Lena Blowers as hostess. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess after which the members enjoyed the usual social hour.

CHURCH OF THE BRETHREN

Cor. Third and Madison
B. C. Whitmore, Minister.

The lesson for the Sunday school being on the temperance question, there should be much wholesome thought provoked on present day application and effectiveness of the prohibition laws locally and generally. The subject for the morning discourse will be "The Successor of the Liquor Traffic." Astounding statistics on the only poison that is now sold without law regulation.

C. W. Society at 7 o'clock. Sermon at 7:45. Subject—"Our Jazz Day," or the Rebellion of the Incompetent." You will perhaps be interested in the modern application of the pre-historic arts of the jungle folks.

Both of these discourses may be more in the form of a lecture than a sermon but are hoped to be in preparation for the laying of the foundation of spiritual truth by the clearing away of the rubbish.

When last seen Wohl was rocking his infant to sleep in the bedroom of his home. His wife could advance no motive for the supposed suicide.

Clearing Houses in Down State Cities

Chicago, Jan. 19—(AP)—A clearing house for downstate banks was advocated today before the Illinois Bankers' Association.

The proposal was presented to the executive committee by G. F. Patterson, Milford and F. W. Aldrick, McLean. The plan suggests dividing the state into ten sections, each having its own clearing house.

FACES OTHER CHARGES IN IOWA COURTS

and driving a stolen automobile, but he will be admitted to bail on either or both charges.

Roscoe Shomer, who according to testimony in Duffy's trial, took possession of the latter's automobile the day of the bank holdup while Duffy remained here, was convicted of bank robbery last week and awaits sentence.

Shomer also was convicted of automobile stealing in connection with pilfering of two cars from a local saleroom last August. The auto charge against Duffy grew out of the same indictment, as it is charged he was driving one of the stolen machines when arrested in Chicago.

Tense nerves, flashing accusations, a cry, "Then you told me a lie!" turned the crowded court room into a tumult of confusion Thursday morning at 11:30, when the two opposing counsels, County Attorney W. J. Barngrover and George Claassen, dropped their legal mantles for a moment and attempted to settle their differences with bare fists in the cleared space before the bench of Judge F. L. Anderson.

Two blows and many angry words were exchanged before they could be separated.

The three days' tension of the trial was broken during County Attorney Barngrover's closing plea to the jury, and the two attorneys met in the age-old way of settling differences.

How It Started.
A forecast of the encounter came the day before when the two attorneys wrangled over the cross-examination of Duffy on the stand. Barngrover said that Duffy had rented two safety deposit boxes in Chicago the day after the robbery, and asked the defendant if he would consent to their being opened now by officers.

Duffy evaded the issue by referring it to his lawyer. Then H. A. Brooks, associate attorney for the defense, said, "I believe that the state's attorney has the contents of those boxes now in open violation of law."

"I want to say in open court that I have not the contents of those boxes," the county attorney answered.

"Then you lied to me a few days ago," flared up Claassen from across the counsel table. Order was restored by the court.

It was over the same issue Thursday that the fight occurred. Barngrover had reviewed his case. He directed attention to the testimony of the defendant on the stand.

"What stamps him as guilty above all else," he cried, "is the fact that on Dec. 1, the day after the bank robbery, he took out a safety deposit box in the Kimball Trust & Savings bank; and then on the same day took another in the Irving State bank."

Claassen, sitting across the room, objected, saying that it was not in the evidence that the boxes had been rented on the same day. He spoke again a little later when the county attorney mentioned the receipts for the boxes. "But you have the receipts," Claassen shouted across the room.

"I knew he would say that," Barngrover said to the jury. "I have not the receipts." His voice rose. "I have not entered that box. But he knows that we will enter that box." "Then you told me a lie!" Mr. Claassen was on his feet.

"I did not tell you a lie," shouted the county attorney as he walked

MUCH ADO

There's considerable rivalry among the makers of small cars this year. In Letter Golf the change from NEW to CAR just takes four strokes, a very easy matter. Par solution is on page 9.

2-You can change only one letter at a time.

3-You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each pump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4-The order of letters cannot be changed.

One solution is printed on page 9.

around the counsel table toward Mr. Claassen, and if you'll meet me outside, I'll—"

The end of his sentence was lost as the crowd in the court room watched the two men meet in front of the judge's bench. Both men were shouting. The court room was in an uproar. Mr. Claassen struck first, Barngrover retaliated with a right hand blow that landed on Claassen's left cheek and sent him reeling against a chair. Chief of Police W. C. Benesh, the bailiff and spectators closed around them and tore them apart. Even then, both men continued to shout at each other.

When order was restored, Barngrover returned to his place before the jury box and continued his plea. While the spectators were regaining their breath, Claassen addressed the court and apologized for his hasty action.

The county attorney turned around. "I'll apologize, too, if you'll retract your statements," he said. "I won't retract," returned Claassen, advancing a step. The court again admonished the two men and order was once more restored. Barngrover was also admonished by the court a little later, for continuing to refer to the "safety deposit boxes."

Judge Anderson soon afterward gave his instructions to the jury, and at 11:55 a. m. the eleven men and one woman retired for deliberation.

Playing the last card in his attempt to convict Duffy, Barngrover offered four character witnesses to testify against the defendant.

Chief of Police J. D. Van Bibber, Mayor Frank D. Palmer, Sheriff Ward T. Miller, all of Dixon, Ill., and Deputy Sheriff L. W. Harrison, Morrison, Ill., testified that they had heard "bad" reports of Duffy. The final defense witness was Ray Blackmer, Evening Gazette and Republican reporter, who corroborated previous testimony as to the description of the bandits given out on the day of the robbery.

TOASTMASTERS MET

One of the most enjoyable social events of the season took place Thursday evening when the Toastmasters' Club entertained their wives and lady friends at a dinner party at the Y. M. C. A.

The program was in charge of H. M. Hey, assisted by James Andrews, and proved to be most unusual. The club singing was under the leadership of J. N. Palmer, and A. G. Harris welcomed all visitors on behalf of the Toastmasters' club. The Toastmasters' Quartet, newly organized, made its debut in a group of songs and was well received. The members of the quartet are B. S. Schildberg, M. C. Selander, J. N. Palmer and J. C. Koller. The main feature of the program was a mock trial, which was carefully prepared and well executed.

The poultry contest committee of the Toastmasters' Club, H. G. Byers, J. N. Weiss, and J. C. Koller, were indicted for embezzlement in connection with the annual poultry fair. However, they were found not guilty because of insufficiency of facts. C. A. Mellott, Prosecuting Attorney, was assisted by J. N. Palmer, and the Counsel for Defense was M. C. Selander with C. A. Buchner as his Associate. Attorney M. J. Gannon presided as Judge, and B. S. Schildberg was Clerk of Court. R. E. Worsley, Sheriff and Mary Wellman Court Reporter. Amusing situations arose when Dr. K. B. Segner posed as a Psycho-analyst, giving his findings following examinations of various members of the club. All present voted this affair one of the most successful of its kind, and expressed their desire to see another like occasion in the near future.

Court Mystified by Divorce Proceeding

Los Angeles, Jan. 20—(AP)—Kisses, embraces and tears, which featured the meeting of Thomas Ball, once prominent attorney, and Mrs. Mary Ball, his wife, in the first stage of their divorce fight here admittedly mystified the superior court.

The court expressed its mystification yesterday at the close of a hearing in which Mrs. Ball was awarded $150 a month temporary alimony and $250 attorney fees. Ball petitioned for the divorce, accusing his wife of nagging him and running up bills while he was in a hospital receiving treatment for injuries received in an automobile wreck. Mrs. Ball is fighting the suit.

In answering her husband's charges recently Mrs. Ball laid the responsibility for their estrangement at the feet of Mrs. Alfred I. DuPont, wife of the multimillionaire manufacturer of Delaware and Florida, and Mrs. Elsie Ball Wright, both sisters of Ball. Mrs. Ball announced at that time that she would sue Mrs. DuPont and Mrs. Wright for $1,000,000 for alienation of affections.

Mr. and Mrs. Ball fell into each other's arms at the very opening of the alimony hearing.

Renews His Attack

Washington, Jan. 19—(AP)—Undeterred by the action of senate democrats in voting confidence in the leadership of Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Senator Heflin of Alabama gained the Senate floor today and renewed his attack on the party chief.

Argentine Govt.*Reports on Crops

Buenos Aires, Argentina, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The ministry of agriculture today made public a report on the condition of Argentine crops as of Jan. 16 stating that although conditions throughout the country were generally good the harvest had suffered some and was retarded to some extent by rains.

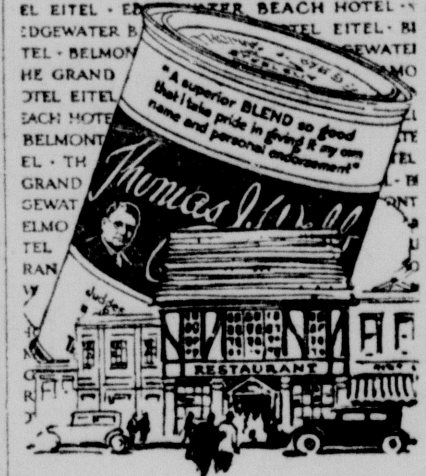

Reports on individual crops included:

Wheat—Threshing is in a most advanced state in all zones, but less so in the southern part of the province of Buenos Aires and Las Pampas; the yield is generally good although in some zones the production will be less and of inferior quality.

Corn—Plants are in good condition and a satisfactory yield is expected.

Oats—The planting was in small quantity which is in good condition.

Barley, rye and seed in general gave good yields, particularly barley.

CHICAGO'S BLACK EYE POULTICED BY BIG LAWYER

Silas Strawn Thinks City's Reputation is Maligned

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Another poultice has been applied to the black eye Chicago has been given as a crime center this time by the president of the American Bar Association, Silas H. Strawn.

Mr. Strawn and 250 others—lawyers, judges and business leaders—held a "town meeting" last night to diagnose the city's crime and prescribe remedies. They wound up in virtual accord that the city's reputation has been maligned and that actually Chicago is much better off, so far as crime is concerned.

There was one dissenter to the general sentiment—T. E. Donnelly, chairman of the Citizens' Committee. He refused to believe crime had been materially reduced.

"I know from secret sources that criminals in Chicago are not watching this meeting," he said, "and wondering whether this is the beginning of a rising of citizens. If it ends in talk, praising this and that person, saying we are better than we are, we will be missing the greatest opportunity."

Mr. Strawn held that the time has come to be optimistic about Chicago, to stop carping at officialdom and to get busy with support for those in office who are doing their duty. With other speakers, he was inclined to blame the press for much of the undesirable publicity.

"The people of this country seem to want crime news," he said, "and they get about what they want. In 36 years in Chicago I have never been held up, robbed, or racketeered. If a man attends to his business and leads a quiet, normal life he is unlikely to get into difficulty."

One Killed, Many Injured in Storm

Cincinnati, Ohio, Jan. 19.—(AP)—One man was dead, numerous persons injured and buildings blown down in a tornado that swept southern Ohio today. First reports indicated the storm extended from Washington Court House near the center of the state down into the blue grass district of Kentucky.

A. R. Kruger, Dayton traveling man, was killed instantly when the coping of a building was blown down on his car at Washington court house.

Heaviest damage was indicated at Cumminsville and East Hamilton, suburbs of Cincinnati, and at Hamilton, Ohio.

Communication lines were down and definite information was lacking. Early estimates placed damage at more than $100,000.

So far hospitals reports that ten persons were being treated for injuries, none serious.

Two school children were reported injured at East Hamilton when the storm hit a school building.

STRUCK LOUISVILLE

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19.—(AP)—A high windstorm today damaged a number of houses in the western part of Louisville and at Shively, fifteen miles from here, seriously injured two men and caused damage estimated as high as $100,000. Three houses on southern parkway here were badly damaged and numerous trees were uprooted, garages and small sheds blown down and dozens of windows smashed.

Six people were slightly injured.

Schoolmasters of Ogle Form Assn.

Stillman Valley—An organization of Ogle county schoolmasters was tentatively formed Tuesday night at a session held at the Spoor hotel, Oregon, C. O. Combs, superintendent of the Stillman school, presided.

Good fellowship and monthly discussions of administrative problems are named as the purposes of the organization. The next session is to be held on February 9, when officers will be named.

Mr. Combs, County Superintendent, George S. Cann and H. R. Lissach, superintendent of Rochelle grade schools, were named on an organization.

The program committee for the next session includes W. Allen, superintendent of Forestburg schools; Benjamin Keltzman, Polo high school head, and A. J. Johnson, superintendent of East River high school.

Other school officials attending the session and favoring the project included Prof. H. C. Hewitt, of Oregon; Principal A. M. Gohl, Rochelle, and Principal Gladwyn Miller, Kings. Prof. H. V. Lynn, head of the Byron school and dean of Ogle county superintendents in point of continuous service, was unable to attend Tuesday night's session, but has announced his intention of becoming affiliated with the newly formed organization.

Consistory to Meet in Rockford Apr. 10

Rockford—Freeport Consistory will hold its spring ceremonial at Shrine temple April 10 and 11. This is the first time the Scottish rite has ever been conferred on a class in Rockford, the temple being used during the construction of a new hall at Freeport.

Walter E. Erfert, commander-in-chief, stated that a record class of candidates would apply for the degrees this year.

The ceremonial is limited to two days this spring and will be featured by a dramatization of the twenty-fourth degree by a team under the direction of Albert Tukenoph and an exemplification of the thirtieth degree by a team from DeMory Consistory of Clinton, Ia.

The Freeport lodge recently conferred the twentieth degree at a ceremonial at Clinton. The visit of the Iowa team to Rockford, arranged by special dispensation of grand lodge officers, will mark the first time in the history of the order that a lodge from another state and jurisdiction has conferred degree work.

office, the Senator-elect found only the most rigid republicans supporting his claim to a seat. Two democrats joined them, Bleas of South Carolina, and Steck of Iowa. The 21 republicans who voted against Smith included Curtis of Kansas, the majority leader, and Jones of Washington, the party whip. Thirty-nine democrats and Shipstead of Minnesota, the farmer-labor member, voted to exclude Smith.

As the situation stood today, with Illinois having only one representative in the Senate, some senators believed the way was open to Governor Small of Illinois to appoint another man, but Smith's legal advisers contended that the Governor could not appoint unless their client resigned. It has been assumed that Smith would not resign but would await the opening of the next Congress in December, 1929, when one third of the membership will have been up for re-election.

Expenditures Listed
In addition to the $200,000 contributions to Smith's campaign, other donations uncovered by the investigating committee led by Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, and expenditures of more than $450,000 were listed in the resolution adopted yesterday.

As the controversy neared the voting stage after the usual closing hour yesterday, it found the original investigator, Reed of Missouri, demanding that the Senate vacate Smith's seat. He agreed to revision of the committee resolution to eliminate the phrase that Smith was not entitled to the oath of office as requested by some Senators, but contended that "no Senator asserts that Frank L. Smith stands here with clean hands or denies that he arrived at the door of the senate over a crooked and dishonorable path."

Smith's defense was carried on largely by Senator Shortridge, republican, California, and the new republican member from New Mexico, Senator Cutting. On the other side were Norris of Nebraska, republican independent leader, and Broussard of Louisiana, democrats.

Reed is Bitter
Calling upon the senate to declare vacant the seat, Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, told that body that there had been presented on behalf of the Senator-elect "no argument based upon the justice and merits of his case."

The chairman of the special committee which unearthed huge expenditures in Smith's primary campaign declared that no senator "has dared assert that his conduct in seeking the election is free from grave reproach."

Again he said that no Senator had dared defend the payment of huge sums by Samuel Insull, Chicago utilities official, to the Senator-elect's primary fund and no Senator had dared to defend Smith's acceptance of those sums while serving as chairman of a commission having regulatory power over Insull's properties.

Cost Unjustified
"No Senator claims that the amount of money expended on behalf of Frank L. Smith was not so excessive as to be clearly unjustifiable," the Missourian continued.

"No Senator asserts that Frank L. Smith stands here with clean hands or denies that he arrived at the door of the senate over a crooked and dishonorable path."

Senator Reed charged that Smith's supporters had thrown up "a smoke screen of legal technicalities, sophistries and refinements," and added: "A majority vote cannot sanctify a fraud."

"It cannot make black white. It cannot transform evil into good. It cannot change dishonesty into honesty."

Future Uncertain
Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Forbidden to sit in the United States Senate, Frank L. Smith rested at his home at Dwight, Ill., today to await word from his counsel as to his future course.

Mr. Smith is regarded by Gov. Len Small and other state officers as a Senator-elect even if he hasn't a seat. Nothing short of Mr. Smith's resignation would cause the Governor to appoint a temporary Senator, it was indicated, and the former chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission has no intention of resigning.

He made this plain when interviewed last night over long distance telephone. Mr. Smith was reached at a small railroad station where he was told of the Senate's action in passing the Reed resolution declaring his credentials to be "tainted with fraud and corruption."

Reiterated Position
In that interview he reiterated the assertions he had made before the Reed committee investigating his campaign expenses—that the Sen-

THE STORY TUS FAR

When the strangled body of Margaret Odell, known to Broadway as the "Canary," was found in her apartment, New York found itself confronted with one of the most baffling murders in its history. Vance, student of psychology and of crime, is taken to the apartment by Markham. The rooms are violently disordered. The medical examiner gives it as his opinion that the murder was committed about 11:30 the night preceding.

CHAPTER V

"I GUESS that's all, doc," Heath decided. "I'll get the body to the mortuary right away. Let's have the post-mortem as soon as you can."

"You'll get a report in the morning," Vance said. "And despite his apparent eagerness to be off, Doctor Dorems stepped into the bedroom and shook hands with Heath and Markham and Inspector Moran before he hurried out."

Heath followed him to the door, and I heard him direct the officer outside to telephone the department of public welfare to send an ambulance at once for the girl's body.

"Such detachment!" Vance said to Markham. "Here are you stewing most distressingly over the passing of one damned fair and frail, and that blithe medicus is worrying only over a sluggish liver brought on by early rising."

"What has he to be upset over?" complained Markham. "The news papers are not riding him with spurs. . . . And by the way, what was the point of your questions about the torn dress?"

Vance lazily inspected the tip of his cigar.

"Consider," he said. "The lady was evidently taken by surprise; for, had there been a struggle before she would not have been strangled from behind while sitting down. Therefore, her gown and corsage were undoubtedly intact at the time she was seized. But—despite the conclusion of your dashing Paracelsus—the damage to her toilet was not of a nature that could have been self-inflicted in her struggle for air. If she had felt the constriction of the gown across her breast, she would have snatched the bodice itself by putting her fingers inside the band. But, if you noticed, her bodice was intact; the only thing that had been torn was the deep lace flounce on the outside; and it had been torn, or rather ripped, by a strong lateral pull; whereas, in the circumstances, any wrench on her part would have been downward or outward."

Inspector Moran was listening intently, but Heath seemed restless and impatient; apparently he regarded the torn gown as irrelevant to the simple main issue.

"Moreover," Vance went on, "there is the corsage. If she herself had torn it off while being strangled, it would doubtless have fallen to the floor; for, remember she offered considerable resistance. Her body was twisted sideways; her knee was drawn up, and one slipper had been kicked off."

"Now, no bunch of silken posties is going to remain in a lady's lap during such a commotion. Even when ladies sit still, their gloves and handbags and handkerchiefs and programs and serviettes are forever sliding off of their laps on to the floor, don't you know?"

"But if your argument's correct," protested Markham, "then the tearing of the lace and the snatching off of the corsage could have been done only after she was dead. And I can't see any object in such senseless vandalism."

"Neither can I," sighed Vance. "It's all devilish queer."

Heath looked at him sharply. "That's the second time you've said that. But there's nothing what you'd call queer about this mess. It is a straight-away case." He spoke like a man arguing against his own insecurity of opinion. "The dress might've been torn almost any time," he went on stubbornly. "And the flower might've got caught in the lace of her skirt so it couldn't roll off."

"And how would you explain the 'leakage,' Sergeant?" asked Vance. "Well, the fellow might've tried the poker, and then, finding it wouldn't work, used his jimmy."

"If he had the efficient jimmy," countered Vance, "why did he go to the trouble of bringing the silly poker from the living room?"

The Sergeant shook his head perplexedly.

"You never can tell why some of these crooks act the way they do."

"Tut, tut!" Vance chided him. "There should be no such word as 'never' in the bright lexicon of detecting."

Heath regarded him sharply. "Was there anything else that struck you as queer?" His subtle doubts were welling up again.

"Well, there's the lamp on the table in the other room."

"We were standing near the archway between the two rooms, and Heath turned quickly and looked blankly at the fallen lamp."

"I don't see anything queer about that."

"Fancy that, now! One can't lock a closet door with the key on the inside—can one, Sergeant?"

garded the torn gown as irrelevant to the simple main issue.

"Moreover," Vance went on, "there is the corsage. If she herself had torn it off while being strangled, it would doubtless have fallen to the floor; for, remember she offered considerable resistance. Her body was twisted sideways; her knee was drawn up, and one slipper had been kicked off."

The Sergeant shook his head perplexedly.

PHILLIES SHOULD BETTER POSITION IN LEAGUE RACE

Trades During Winter Have Strengthened the Aggregation

Philadelphia, Jan. 20.—(AP)—With a raft of new players, a seasoned first baseman and additions to the pitching staff, not to mention the inspiring influence of Burt Shotton, the new manager, signed for two years, the Philadelphia Nationals face the 1928 baseball campaign looking through rose-tinted spectacles.

Winding up in eighth place last season, the Phils switched managers during the winter, made a few advantageous swaps, shook up their personnel, changed training quarters and announced spring practice would start two weeks earlier this year.

New First Sacker.
The most notable addition to the team is first baseman George Kelley, bought from Minneapolis, although he played at Newark, N. J. last year. Kelley has been a successful minor league first sacker for five years and compiled 44 homers two years ago with Buffalo.

Despite conflicting reports, Fresno Thompson will be back on second base. He is one of the most agile keystone tenders in the position at shortstop, Hal Dietrich, of Portsmouth, Va., will be Sand's understudy.

A struggle for third base will take place between Barney Friberg, a near veteran, and A. C. (Ace) Whitney, erstwhile New Orleans player and voted the best infielder in the Southern Association last year.

Whitney Looks Good.
Whitney comes highly recommended to the Phils. He sports a 333 batting average, is a base stealer, and possesses a rifle throwing arm.

One of the best all-around utility men in the National League, Reggy Wrightstone, a handy man with the bat, will be available for emergency duty in almost any position and will act as pinch-hitter.

At the last baseball meeting, the Phils disposed of out-fielder Johnny Mekan, catcher Bubbles Jonnard and shortstop Jimmy Cooney in exchange for pitcher Jimmy Ring and catcher John Schulte. Ring was eager to play in the east and his experience should be an asset to the Philadelphia team.

Pitchers Strong.
The twirling corps is stronger than in recent years. It consists of Frank Ulrich, a right-handed ace; Claude Willoughby, Alex Ferguson, Art Decatur, veteran right-handed slingers; Clarence Mitchell, Herb Pruett and Lester Sweetland, southpaws.

There is a flock of impressive newcomers, Walsh and Taber from the Eastern League; Bengt from Waco; Greene of Portsmouth, and many other lesser lights. At least four of the rookies are said to possess enough stuff to remain in the big league.

In the outfield, Cy Williams, who tied with Hack Wilson for home run honors last year with 30, probably will alternate with Denny Sothern, if he does not care to play through the entire season. Cy is a real veteran but he still retains the knack of clouting homers.

Good Outfield.
Center field will be guarded by Fred Leach, a deadly hitter in the pinch, while Dick Spalding will hold forth in left. Both led the league in fielding their positions last season. Al Nixon and Holman will be substitutes, giving the Phils two outfielders.

The catching department is led by Manager Shotton will be assisted by Fred Hunter, formerly of Syracuse. The pitchers and catchers will arrive in camp, Feb. 20. This year the Phils have shifted their training site to Winter Haven, in central Florida. Seventeen pitchers will take the spring conditioning jaunt, assuring the Phils plenty of batting practice.

Fights Last Night!

Port Thomas, Ky.—Vincent Hambright, Cincinnati, won by a technical knockout from Glenn Nitty, Terre Haute (7).

London, Eng.—Len Harvey, London, won from "Kid" Nitram, France (4). (Nitram disqualified.)

Purdue Stands Alone at Top of Quintets

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The Western Conference basketball ball standing at last has a lone leader, Purdue, by virtue of the elimination one by one, of the other teams from the undefeated class.

Northwestern had dropped into the list of beaten teams today, outplayed last night by Ohio State 43 to 38. It was Ohio's first victory.

Purdue tops the list because it has won its only game this season, from Illinois, but risks its leadership tomorrow night against Iowa, Chicago, one of the two Big Ten teams still without a conference victory, is next to go up against the Buckeyes at Columbus tomorrow night. The third match of the week end, which marks the lull before semester exams, is the Illinois-Indiana game at Bloomington, Ind.

Sammy Silverberg of Detroit has been substituted for Al Reed as the opponent of Otto Von Porat, Norwegian heavyweight. Jack Sparr of Los Angeles and Bucky Lawless, Syracuse welterweight, come together in the first bout.

To Arrange Racing Dates for Illinois

Chicago, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The racing situation in Illinois is expected to come to a settlement next Tuesday after several postponements of the schedule arrangements due to the uncertainty of the operation of the Washington Park track. Officials of that course said today that they will report to the Illinois Turf Association meeting they are ready to go ahead with their $300,000 improvement program, and want to be assigned dates for a summer meeting.

Under the new Illinois racing law, the season opens on May 1 and must close on Nov. 1, with not more than 50 days racing at any track. Aurora is expected to get the inaugural meeting, followed by Washington Park, Lincoln Fields, Arlington Heights and Hawthorne.

Fairmount Park at East St. Louis does not figure in the tangle of dates, as its meetings will not conflict with those on the five tracks around Chicago. Another proposed track at East St. Louis seems likely to materialize by spring and officials of the Illinois Turf Association said there would be no difficulty in granting dates for it, if it were finishing in time.

Belgian Gets Chance

Boston, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Jack Delaney, of Bridgeport, Conn., and Jack Humberg, of Belgium, are to stage an elimination all their own when they meet over the 10-round route here tonight.

Delaney is a favorite but Humberg, a 205-pound, blonde-haired protégé of Tommy Burns, has a reputation himself. In 69 bouts he has never been flattened.

Delaney recently renounced his light-heavyweight aspirations and throne to seek heavyweight honors.

Two Track Meets

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Track stars edge into the indoor sports picture in the Western Conference tomorrow in two dual meets. Chicago entertains Indiana, and Notre Dame takes on Northwestern team includes two conference champions, closing their careers. Tiny Lewis, football star, holds the big ten record for the shot put and Bill Droege Miller tops the pole vaulters.

Rearranged Plans
The poor showing of Sharkey and Heenev in their recent tiff which ended in a draw caused Rickard to rearrange his plans. While the

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

ABE MARTIN

"There seems to be everything in the Republican party but Albinos," said Tell Binkley, today, when he read that Sen. Curtis, of Kansas, is an Indian. Jake Bentley is lettin' his whiskers grow till Indiana gits a Democratic gov'nor, but if he wants 'em t' git good an' long he ought t' let 'em alone till women git too independent t' accept alimony.

DELANEY-HEENEY BOUT ASSURED IN RICKARD TOURNEY

First Step to Provide Man to Meet Gene Tunney in Fall

New York, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Efforts to produce a challenger for Gene Tunney's championship had assumed definite form again today with the matching of Jack Delaney and Tom Heenev for a 15-round struggle in Madison Square Garden, March 1.

After considerable dickering, terms were agreed upon yesterday, with the contracts negotiated by John M. Chapman, Tex Rickard's new assistant, who heretofore has been identified chiefly as promoter of the six-day bicycle races.

Under Rickard's new heavyweight elimination plan, the winner of the Heenev-Delaney affair will in turn tussle with the victor of a proposed tilt between Jack Sharkey and Johnny Risko. The Boston boxer and Risko have yet to sign for their prospective bout which will be staged after the Delaney clash.

The poor showing of Sharkey and Heenev in their recent tiff which ended in a draw caused Rickard to rearrange his plans. While the

Hudkins Favorite

New York, Jan. 20.—(AP)—Ace Hudkins, Nebraska welterweight, rules a 2 to 1 favorite for a victory over Lew Tendler, veteran Philadelphia southpaw, in their 10-round feature bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The victor has been promised a match against Sergeant Sammy Baker next month with the survivor to be designated as challenger in a championship tilt with Joe Dundee in March.

The Nebraska Wildcat whipped Tendler in a ten-round affair in Los Angeles last year. Shortly after that scrap, Hudkins was knocked out by Baker when the referee stopped their bout in the seventh round.

POLO NEWS NOTES

Polo—About 40 members of the "Pal" club and their husbands invited themselves to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wilson Tuesday evening to help the latter celebrate her birthday. When the guests arrived, they found the house in darkness, and were in doubt as to whether or not they would find anyone at home. But in a very few minutes the garage light was turned on, which indicated that the family were either leaving or returning home. As the case happened, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson had driven down town and had just returned. To say that the affair was a surprise is putting it mild. Mrs. Wilson, however, soon made her guests very welcome and invited them into the house. Miss Teresa Fry pleased the company with some piano solos. Mrs. John Fry, in a few well chosen words, presented Mrs. Wilson with a beautiful davenport pillow. Mrs. Wilson is the President of the "Pal" club. There was a very delicious and beautifully decorated birthday cake, also fruit salad, wafes and coffee served.

Endurance Record Attempt Falters

San Francisco, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith, British aviator, and Lieutenant Geo. R. Pond, U. S. N., today failed in their attempt to break the world's endurance record when their monoplane Spirit of California was forced down at 10:15 a. m. Pacific Coast time, when their gasoline supply was exhausted.

The monoplane took off at 8:09 a. m. Tuesday. Its time in the air was approximately fifty hours and seven minutes.

The record, held by two German fliers, is 52 hours, 22 minutes and 31 seconds. To set a new record, the fliers would have had to beat that by an hour.
